

SenseMail Application for iOS

SenseMail secure mail is coming soon on the Apple App Store

SenseMail is a secure mail client for your favourite e-mail service provider. Secure address book, notes and gallery. Protect every message you send with an individual password or pre-shared key.

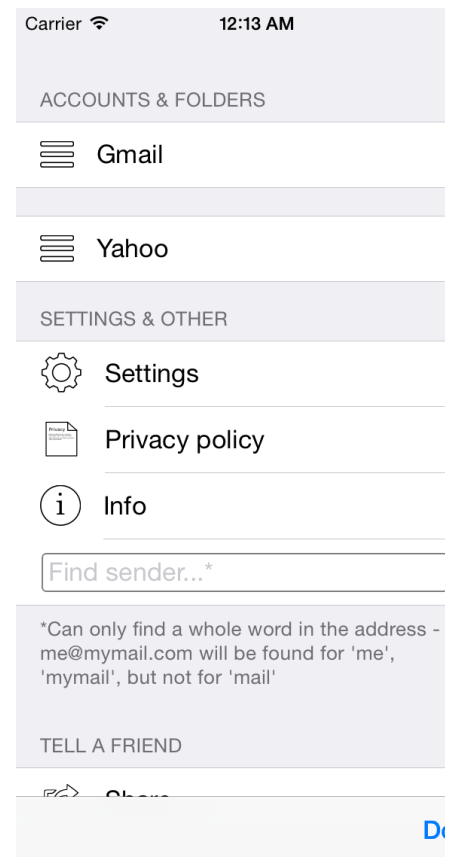

Limassol, October 27, 2015. SenseMail app for iOS introduces a new level of security in e-mail communications. Every part of your workflow is protected with salted AES-256 encryption with message authentication and other modern industry standard algorithms. Starting with the application launch on your mobile device, storing your private data and preferences and moving on to messages, leaving your device - everything is secure. If you take your messages private seriously this app is for you!

SenseMail does a simple thing - it encrypts everything. It never lets any information leave your device unencrypted. It never stores any information unencrypted. It never knows any of your passwords (well, in fact there is one case it will store it, but if only you allow it to). It uses every available tool to keep your messages secure. No backdoors, no catches. If you forget your password, no one will help you.

If you lost your device you would need to log-in to your e-mail account and change a password. No data is kept on device. If your launch password was strong enough there's no need to bother - nobody can read your mail. You've got double password protection!

"We have used SenseMail app internally for quite a long time now and it works just fine! We are really concerned about the privacy on the Internet, it's our professional deviation :) First we made it to suit our own basic needs and now it's evolved into a much more sophisticated and complete product yet it's still easy to use. We are happy with the result, so we want to share it with the others", said the founder of the SenseMail project.

SenseMail is for you if:

- You don't want others to snoop on you
- You need to keep your messages truly confidential
- You are concerned about privacy
- Your are as paranoid as we are :)

Use SenseMail if you want:

- To communicate between top-managers of a remote branch or office. Not every information can be trusted to even a corporate mail.
- To send confidential documents
- To send private contacts
- If you need a meeting in person just to hand over some document or information you can't send other ways. The application has a highest degree of protection.

You might wonder what if this app would be misused. What if it would be used for evil? We answer - this application is just a tool, like a hammer, which is h enough, or your kitchen knife, which is sharp enough to harm your neighbor. But the fact that those tools have such a dangerous qualities is not enough to them. Neither they are necessary nor sufficient for anyone who decided to turn evil. It is exactly the same with this app. We believe, that SenseMail does ve well what it's supposed to do but to be used as a hidden weapon of an enemy it should be a part of a complex infrastructure that will definitely not need it.

SenseMail is starting from $9.99. Requires iOS 7.1 and above. Available worldwide except France (sorry guys, but you've got some licensing issues).
